

ABOUT PEOPLE

One local youngster who is being plagued with more than her share of illness lately, is charming five-year-old, Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Howells, of Smart Street, Fairfield. Margaret had just recovered from a serious illness, then contacted blood poisoning. We are pleased to relate that she is now recovering, and hope to see her enjoying the company of her playmates in the very near future.

Quite a lot of punters set out for the races full of expectancy for a good win, but there is one known to us who likes to play safe by having something to come home to. Noticed him in a local hostelry last Saturday morning leaving a saver with Ted Campbell, just in case. Hope you didn't need it, Les.

Back on duty at the Railway, serving the cup that cheers, is popular dispenser Mrs. Gloria Dixon who has been enjoying annual holidays.

We regret to report the death last week of Mrs. Trainor, of Dennison Ave., Curramar.

Birthday greetings to Tom Aldridge, of Curtin St., Cabramatta, and we wish Tom and wife Martha much better health than of late.

Two young lads we know who are looking forward to the forthcoming holidays with keen anticipation are the Furlong brothers. Their father, John, mine host of the Civic Hotel, is taking them on a wild pig and kangaroo shooting safari in the wild west. Good shooting, boys.

Noticed among the distinguished guests attending the Canberra State Ball in honour of H.R.H. Princess Alexandria, were the state-ly figures of our Federal member Gough Whitlam and his wife. The glittering spectacle was televised, thus allowing us an insight,

After a necessary lay-off with a damaged finger, local baseball ace, Alan Morris, returned to Wests first last Saturday and played an important part in his team's semi-final win over Bankstown.

Off to Toukley for the school vacation is Mrs. Leo Connell and children, of Smart Street, Fairfield.

Most owners of a brand new family limousine are justly proud of their newly acquired mode of transport, but it is doubtful if there is any more pleased than Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Stewart, of Longfield St., Cabramatta, who took delivery of a spanking new Holden sedan last week-end.

Just returned from a successful wild game shooting expedition in the Warren area, is Station Officer Leo Connell, of Fairfield Police. Leo's aim has become so unerring on these regular sorties that his conferees have dubbed him Sgt. York.

Mr. Arian Wulf (Alcon's), Fairfield, recently moved into a new home in Strathfield. Moving your home is quite a job at the best of times, but just to make it more interesting for Alan he had both his wife and two children ill while the move was on. It's nice to know now that the Wulf family are all well again and fast settling down in their new home.

We wish to express our sympathy to Mr. Fred Johnson on the recent loss of his father. Mr. Johnson is attached to the Holroyd County Council, and is well known to the business people of Fairfield.

Mrs. Pollard, Bossley Park, is holidaying in New Zealand. She intends visiting her many relatives during the month's stay away from home.

Dave Woods (J. J. Woods) has been on the sick list the last week or so. Good to see you around again, Dave.

Jann Colless (Drou's Pharmacy), left last Saturday to have a brief holiday prior to her marriage on September 3. She will be living at East Botany after her marriage to Peter living at East Botany after her marriage to Peter Garske, formerly of Liverpool.

Mr. Ray Herrmann (Cabramatta plasterer) entertained friends from Vancouver last Monday. Ray met the friends while holidaying in Canada and U.S.A. last year.

Gary Friend, 14 year old Parramatta High School boy, of Francis St., Fairfield, competing in the school sports last week won first place in the under 15 years high jump, the 100 yds. championship, 220 yds. championship and 880 yds. championship. Gary will now represent Parramatta High in the combined school sports later this year.

Arnold Downes, wife and family, left at the week-end for their annual holidays. The Downes family went north. Just as well, too, the way the weather has been here the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Tudor (newsagents), have both been down with the flu. Doug is back at work but Mrs. Tudor is still far from well.

MRS. TUGOR IS WELL AND FEELS WELL.

Recently in Fairfield, two old Diggers of World War I met for the first time since the Battle of Passchendaele. The amazing angle is that over the passage of years each was under the management and acquainted the management with Len's plight, with the result that the truck was sooned manned by another driver. Unfortunately, Len has been unable to discover the names and addresses of these two Good Samaritans to personally thank them for their presence of mind and kindness to him.

Mrs. O'Meley, formerly of Seville Street, Fairfield, and now of Bundanoon, is at present holidaying in the district, and is looking very much better, although still in indolent health. Staying with her son Pat, who is slowly recovering from injuries sustained in a car smash at Sutton Forest thirteen months ago. Pat spent five months in Wollongong Hospital, and is still hobbling along on crutches. Both Mrs. O'Meley and Pat are very interested in the progress of sister Elaine, well-known pianist who is a candidate in the Orchid Queen competition being sponsored for the Northcott School for Crippled Children. Elaine is "Miss Woolpack" candidate, and a gala picnic is being held next Sunday in aid of her candidature.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bright of Wilga Street, Fairfield, have had their share of worry lately. For the past month daughter, Cathy and son Gregory, have both been on the sick list, but we are pleased to report that both are now showing considerable improvement.

Mr. Keith White, popular assistant at L. A. White & Sons Hardware Store, in The Crescent, Fairfield, commenced work on Monday after three weeks' absence through injuries sustained in a motor accident on Hamilton Road, Fairfield.

After having had a bad bout of flu, Robert Grossetti, of Linda St., now has the measles.

John Howell, of Dawson St., is in Fairfield Hospital. When he returns home he will have left his appendix behind him.

Miss Helen Moore, of Dawson St., celebrated her eighteen birthday last week. About 35 guests attended a barbecue party at her home. Helen received some very lovely gifts.

Four lucky young school girls spent the week-end at Blackheath on August 7. They represented their schools when playing with the Liverpool District Basketball team. They were Marit Staron, Bossley Park Public School, and Sandra Devenish, Susan Bell and Valda Robson, from Fairfield Heights Public School.

Friends of Mrs. June Claussen, Restwell Rd., Bossley Park, are very pleased to see her home again after spending a week in Fairfield District Hospital.

Results of Patricia Brothers guessing competition: first prize, Mrs. Kowacz, lot 78 Anthony St., Fairfield (No. 11041); second prize, Mr. Aduckiewicz, 6 Lovoni St., Cabramatta (No. 6178); third prize, Mrs. Pirjevec, 3 Wyong St., Canley Vale (No. 7188); fourth prize, Mrs. Ramson, 112 Campbell St., Fairfield (No. 10349).

Nurse Judy Targett is holidaying with her sister at Young.

Mrs. Kath Bright has a very nice new Morris car, which husband Ted is "running in." Just how long it takes to "run in" a small car seems to be in doubt. In the meantime, Mrs. Bright shops in the 'Olden.

Ald. H. D. Hancock, who is indisposed, did not attend last week's meeting of Fairfield Council. The Mayor and aldermen expressed their wishes for a speedy recovery.

Mr. Len Tait, formerly of Sackville Street, Fairfield, and now of North Rocks, recently returned from Ryde Hospital after many weeks in that hospital. Len, who has a wide circle of friends in this district, suffered a coronary occlusion whilst at the wheel of a truck he was driving in the Epping district. Realising he was very ill, he pulled to the side of the road and kept his hand on the horn, in an endeavour to attract notice. His plight was discovered by two ladies, who immediately contacted the ambulance and a doctor, and Len was soon admitted to Ryde Hospital. Then these ladies phoned his place of employment and acquainted the management with Len's
